A COIL OF STEEL rests on its side in the 1800 block of Benton Street Friday afternoon after rolling off the flat-bed truck in the foreground. The driver of the truck was attempting to make a right turn onto Benton from the 19th Street overpass when the 50,000-pound load shifted. Chains holding the coil snapped and the load moved, causing the bed of the trailer to buckle under the weight. No one was injured in the mishap.

Bus routes eliminated

MADISON COUNTY — The elimination of three county Bi-State bus routes will save the transit district more than $1 million annually.

Action to eliminate the routes was taken Thursday by the district's board of trustees.

THE NORTH GRANITE CITY/Niedringhaus line, the Collinsville/Edwardsville line and the Alton/St. Louis midday line will be replaced by shuttle buses.

"The Agency for Community Transit will provide shuttle-type van service, utilizing smaller vehicles which will more than adequately handle the transportation needs of the affected riders," said William R. Haine, chairman of the transit board.

"WE ARE FINDING in many instances that these smaller, quieter vehicles are more compatible with and more responsive to the needs of the communities within the transit district."

Haine said any time the transit board studies a situation and concludes it can provide better transit service to citizens of Madison County without contracting with Bi-State Transit, it will do so.

"There should be no confusion about the purpose, role or relation-

Crider denies making threat

By DAVE WHALEY

GRANITE CITY — Robert Crider said last week he was the person who spoke with Judy Whitaker about her support in the upcoming school board election.

But Crider said he did not make a threat to Whitaker that her husband, Walt, would be fired from his job if she did not support his candidate in the Nov. 5 election.

Whitaker, a 6th Ward alderwoman, said at the Sept. 3 board meeting she had been approached at a committeemen's picnic in August by a man who told her Walt, the head wrestling coach at Granite City High School, would be fired if she did not support his candidate. The candidate was not identified.

CRIDER WAS AT the picnic and said he told Whitaker he had heard she was out to "get" his candidate in the election.

"She responded that was true, that she felt (the board member) should have voted for her husband, Walt, to be head wrestling coach when North High School was closed and the two high schools were combined (in 1983)," Crider said. "She also said that he could have at least voted for Walt and Smitty (Red Schmitt) to be co-coaches." Schmitt became the coach and has since retired.

Crider said he told Whitaker he had served on the board with the other board member for six years and did not know of anyone who had tried to help Walt any more than he did.

"IF IT WASN'T for this board member, Walt would probably not have been in the district," Crider said.

"It would not have been fair" to demote Schmitt or make him a co-coach with Whitaker, Crider said he told Judy Whitaker.

"Smitty was the one who put Granite City on the map in wrestling and he had coached Walt as a

Candidate threatened

By DAVE WHALEY

GRANITE CITY — Sheila Moran said Wednesday she was threatened with bodily harm if she did not drop out of the campaign for the school board election Nov. 5.

Moran said a man came to her door and said if she did not drop out "my health would suffer."

"I agree with Judy Whitaker," Moran, of 77 University Drive, said. "I would hope these threats don't have any effect on the outcome."

SHE WAS REFERRING to comments from Judy Whitaker, 6th Ward alderwoman, who said recently she had been told by a man that if she did not support his candidate in the school election, it was possible her husband could be fired from his job in the district.

"I am running for this reason," Moran said. "I would like to see some professionalism on the board. I didn't know who the man was who came to my house, but it was obvious he was associated with some board member."

Moran said she would not drop out of the election and said she had told the police about the incident. She said she had never spoken to the man before.

"There are a couple of people fed up with the way things are going," she said. "But I'm not going to drop out."

East, West meet at GC school

Sunday focus

By DAVE WHALEY

Granite City schools were under scrutiny by the Far East last week.

Twenty-six school teachers from Japan were in town Thursday and Friday to take a look at how American schools operate, and Granite City was the first stop.

According to Kazuo Itoh, principal of a school in Japan, Granite City was chosen after the Ministry of Japanese Education made a study trying to match Japanese cities with cities in the United States of similar sizes and populations.

ALSO INCLUDED in the two-day visit was a tour of Granite City Steel, half of which was purchased last year by Nippon Kokan of Japan.

Itoh, the leader of the Japanese contingent, said through an interpreter he was very pleased with what he saw in the schools here.

"The main purpose of the trip here is to broaden our teachers' minds," he said. "We are looking to educate ourselves by absorbing as much as we can from other countries."

OF SPECIAL INTEREST to the group was the special education to the handicapped offered in America. "Also, we are impressed with all the different types of subjects the students in the U.S. are offered," Itoh said. "In Japan, there is not as much of a choice for the students."

Itoh said the group was also looking to improve the "individual

Cahokia Canal and Harding drainage project terminated

By SUSANNE INDELICATO

Staff writer

A 20-year-old plan for flood control in the Cahokia Canal-Harding Ditch areas has been abandoned, according to a notice from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

"No funds have been appropriated since fiscal year 1983. I would say it's going to sit on the shelf indefinitely," said Ron Lindsay, study manager for the Corps of Engineers.

IT WAS ABANDONED, Lindsay said, because it didn't meet economic criteria for the selection of projects to be included in President Reagan's budget proposal. The criteria measure the economic return on projects.

The overall flood-control plan would have cost $18.95 million in 1982, including $3.5 million in non-federal costs. Corps figures show. Annual non-federal operation and maintenance costs were projected at $165,000.

The Corps found the project would have a benefit-cost ratio of less than 1 and "would not be economically justified," the Corps' notice said.

THE PLAN WAS FIRST authorized by the federal Flood Control Act of 1961, Lindsay said. Other segments of the plan included the Blue Waters Ditch pumping station, which is under construction with a completion date of September 1986, and replacement of the low dam in the Cahokia Diversion Channel.

The low dam project has been postponed for a number of years at the request of the Illinois Department of Transportation, the potential non-federal sponsor.

The abandoned Cahokia Canal-Harding Ditch plan had seven elements:

- A new channel to drain stormwater from the Doherty Slough area.
- A new detention area to reduce downstream flood damage caused by Canteen Creek and to trap sediment.

- Streambank improvements along Little Canteen Creek.

- Strengthening the right bank of Harding Ditch between Forest Boulevard and Black Lane.

- Channel improvements for Schoenberger Creek and Harding Ditch.

- New and improved channels to help reduce flood damage in the central Metro-East area.

- Encouraging use of erosion-control techniques in the upland areas.

"The federal government has abandoned the plan because the government doesn't have the money, Lindsay said.

"WHICH IS NOT to say some other entity could pick it up and run with it, like the state of Illinois," he added.

In fact, $500,000 in Build Illinois funds is committed to dredging the Cahokia Canal and the Madison County Ditch. The Illinois legislature earmarked the funds in July when the Build Illinois plan passed.

The Cahokia Canal channels drainage five miles to the Mississippi River. It is maintained by the Metro-East Sanitary District.

Scholarship program comes underfire again

WASHINGTON — A federal scholarship program for American Indians who want to pursue medical careers has been criticized for the second time in 18 months on the same ground: that it may have given special consideration to applicants with relatives in the agency that administers the program.

The first investigation was made in March 1984 by the survey and review staff of the Public Health Service. It criticized the award of a $13,264 scholarship for pre-med studies at Harvard to the daughter of Dr. Everett Rhoades, director of the Indian Health Service, which runs the scholarship program.

But the report exonerated Rhoades of any impropriety. "While there is some evidence that the procedures were modified to allow the award to Dorothy Rhoades," it stated, "indications are that Dr. Rhoades did not play a direct role in bending any rules."

The later review, completed this month by the inspector general of the Health and Human Services Department, found "weaknesses in many aspects" of the scholarship award and review process. Our associate Tony Capaccio obtained copies of both reports.

"Our review of 50 applicant files during the period 1981-1985 disclosed numerous instances where the internal controls were bypassed," the report states. Seven of the 50 applications were processed after the filing deadline — an average of 12 days past, the report explains. No date of receipt could be found on 25 additional applications.

"By granting awards to individuals who may not have met IHS filing deadlines, other qualified applicants have been denied awards," the report states.

In addition, the inspector general found 20 applicants who listed agency employees as references. While that's perfectly legal, "examination disclosed many deviations from established procedures" in the applications of those related to agency employees. Eight, for example, got higher academic ratings from agency reviewers than their scholastic records justified, and 14 apparently did not have to meet filing deadlines, the report charges.

In the Rhoades case, the director's daughter failed by one point to make the minimum score for a scholarship, but was then re-evaluated outside established procedures and got a higher rating.

Rhoades "maintains that he did not receive negative advice," the report states, but "the evidence indicates that elements of his staff did go to him and contend that he should be compromised and possibly embarrassed if the award was accepted by his daughter."

The report noted, however, that Rhoades was told by the program coordinator "that there was no ethical problem," and apparently he accepted that advice.

The report criticized "the award of a scholarship to the daughter of a high-ranking official by that person's staff," but blamed the long-standing system at the agency for creating such a situation.

Rhoades' attorney said the report "was not grossly inaccurate and we're not saying that it misses the mark, but it does not tell a complete story." He said a forthcoming inspector general's report will conclude that the director's daughter "deserved the scholarship and won it fair and square."

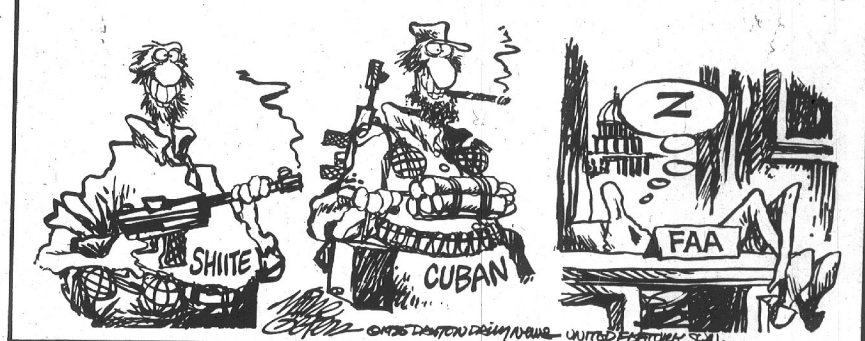

WATCH ON WASTE: The Defense Department would like to get our European allies to adopt its preferred computer language, called "Ada" after Lord Byron's daughter, who was a math whiz. So the Pentagon's five-member Ada board hopped a flight to Paris for four days of arm-twisting. They stayed in the Montparnasse Park Hotel, dined on caviar, snails and bouillabaisse, and took in the sights of Paris in U.S. government vehicles. Cost to the taxpayers: $9,500.

BREAK FOR BREEDERS? Special-interest lobbyists are determinedly trying to shred tax reform legislation currently being considered by Congress. Among those who want special consideration are horse breeders. "It appears," states one letter from the neigh-sayers, "that the horse industry and horse owners and breeders have been singled out as ineligible for capital gains consideration while other investment-type assets, such as stocks and bonds, would remain eligible."

DRUG UPDATE: We previously reported on the abuse of constitutional rights by federal and state drug-busters, who seem to be differentiating between marijuana growers and their innocent neighbors. Earlier this year, a federal judge issued an injunction forbidding the excesses, but residents of northern California have filed a suit accusing law enforcement officials of repeated violations. A suit has also been brought in Oregon seeking a nationwide injunction. It charges that similar abuses have occurred in Virginia, West Virginia, Arkansas and Vermont.

The report noted, however, that Rhoades was told by the program coordinator "that there was no ethical

United Way is people helping people

People helping people is what the United Way is all about.

The annual United Way campaign kicked off Sept. 17 with a challenging goal of $660,000 sought in the eight-week drive to help meet 1986 operating costs of 15 agencies.

A great number of dedicated volunteers are assisting in the United Way effort to meet the goal. The drive is chaired by Ben Johannpeter Jr., director of an employee involvement at Granite City Steel.

The campaign last year achieved its goal of $630,000, but only because almost 75 percent of the pledges came from the industrial group of contributors (employees and companies). In order to accomplish the goal this year, it will require increased support from the other areas outside of just industry, according to Johannpeter.

While there is solid belief in the prospect of an over-100 percent drive, it won't happen automatically. It will only happen if enough Tri-Cities residents, workers, businesses, professionals, organizations and private donors roll up their sleeves and make it happen. It takes everyone giving and, just as important, everyone giving enough, Johannpeter says.

The service agencies supported by the Tri-Cities Area United Way have performed significant and vitally needed work of direct local benefit for many years. The agencies do not always receive wholehearted praise, but they truly deserve it.

The quality programs and services provided by our agencies touch virtually every life in our community. With Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, Visiting Nurses, the YMCA, American Red Cross and United Way, the list goes on.

Other agencies supported by the drive include Catholic Charities, the Salvation Army, the Urban League, Tri-Cities Association for Retarded Children, Children's Home and Aid

Efforts are being made at present to further improve the system of allocating funds raised in this campaign, aiding in the avoidance of duplication and assuring that a full dollar's value is obtained for each dollar contributed.

The dollars contributed to this campaign are also reviewed by volunteers from our community representing every walk of life. The 22-person allocations committee evaluates the needs of our community, reviews each agency's qualifications and measures their performance.

It's your friends and your neighbors who give their time to make the tough decisions of where the money goes.

Using local volunteers may not be the easiest way to administer United Way funds, but it is the best way we know to make sure the money raised by our local United Way gets to the people in our community who need it most.

If we never use some of the services provided by United Way agencies, we will be the lucky ones. But none of us is beyond the problems of mental illness, birth defects or the tragedy that accidents can bring. When these things happen, you, like anyone else, will ask, "Where can I turn?" The answer will be to the agencies of United Way. But only if we all give our fair share to make sure that they are there when people need them.

Many people seem to feel they can't afford to give to United Way. But is this really true? The reality is, we can afford not to give.

The needs of people are not going to be ignored. It boils down to a choice: freedom of choice through doing it ourselves voluntarily, or less effectively and at a greater cost through non-voluntary ways.

Good points, bad points

Being a member of the media

Being a member of the media, especially being a photographer, has its good points and bad points, but it's not always what it's cracked up to be.

This is a case in point.

The FarmAid concert last Sunday in Champaign, Ill., promised to be the biggest concert ever in the Midwest, let alone one of the biggest in the country.

Coming on the heels of the two-continent Live Aid concert in July, FarmAid seemed somewhat anticlimactic, but it was still the largest concert I would have a chance to witness in person. But only if I could get press credentials.

After several phone calls to Governor Jim Thompson's office, then having to call New York City several times to arrange press passes, I finally was assured that credentials would be available for me when I arrived in Champaign.

Don't think the calls were all that it cost to get a photo pass. Since FarmAid was a benefit concert, even the press corps had to pay the $17.50 price of admission to get press credentials, but I could live with that.

I was going to FarmAid.

A quick call on the Friday before the concert to check on the credentials was not as encouraging, though. There were no credentials for me.

Columnists' club

Patrick Foley

Fast talking and names and phone numbers to corroborate my story finally paid off. My name was put back on the list.

I was going to FarmAid.

To be safe and to avoid a three-hour drive to Champaign just for the scenery, I called the credentials office again Saturday morning. Again, my name was nowhere to be found on the "master list."

What was going on? Did these out-of-towners from the Big Apple think it was easier to tell people on the telephone that they were on the list just to get them off their backs? I was convinced of it.

Again, more fast talking and other bits of information that only someone who had gone through the right channels for credentials would have known got my name back on the list, so the man on the other end of the line assured me. I made sure that I stated the fact I needed a photo pass, not just a reporter's pass. I wanted photos of this great event.

At 5 a.m. Sunday, just five hours before the concert was scheduled to begin, I decided to trust my instincts and drive to Champaign.

I was going to FarmAid.

I arrived an hour before the credentials office was scheduled to open, which was just an hour before the concert was to start. Not very good timing. These out-of-towners did drive to Champaign for the concert on time or not.

The people operating the credentials office appeared on the scene at 9 a.m. Nothing to see or hear.

Television and radio personnel got preferential treatment, as usual. Then it was my turn to show my press card and pay $17.50 for a press pass.

Guess what? My name wasn't on the list. It was nowhere to be found and the girl at the desk was not going to look very hard to help me out.

They weren't giving these passes away; they were selling them. So why was I having such a hard time getting a photo pass? Why?

Fast talking and pleading did the trick, but there was one hitch, I couldn't get a photo pass, just a reporter's pass.

I tried using logic. Why would a newspaper send a photographer and not want photos? This didn't work. I think they left their ears in New York. Nothing worked, so I took the reporter's pass.

I was going to FarmAid, sans cameras, though.

I've never been much on going to an event and not taking photos, I am a photographer. I decided I was not going to this concert without a camera and I was not going home without photos.

Quickly, I assembled the bare necessities needed to get some usable photos of the concert and concealed the equipment in a bag under some sandwiches I had brought. My pockets were jammed with film.

A quick shuttle bus ride to the University of Illinois football stadium, through several press credential checkpoints and into the stadium.

I was at FarmAid, finally.

Not having all of my equipment, I shot lots of film to make sure I got something. If I was to go to all this trouble and risk, I wanted a few good photos to show for it.

My photo layout in Thursday's Press-Record is proof of my success — photos of Kenny Rogers, B.B. King, Willie Nelson, Foreigner, Sammy Hagar and Eddie Van Halen. Maybe not the best photos taken at the 14-hour concert, but not bad, considering what I went through to get them.

Being a member of the news media is not always what it's cracked up to be. I know.

Fields would represent all

To the Editor:
Like many of you I have lived through the era and times of Franklin Delano Roosevelt up through the present stressful times of Ronald Reagan.

One of the leaders we have had during this period was Melvin Price from East St. Louis, our congressman in the House of Representatives.

The general feeling was that, under the circumstances, he has tried to do a difficult job to the best of his ability at all times.

Despite the fact that he resided in St. Clair County, it seemed that he considered Madison County as well as the remainder of his district as important as the next.

However, due to his advanced age and lessened activity — this occurs to all of us — it is very important to have a more vigorous and active representative in Congress who can make certain that economic planning and vital legislation does not bypass our area.

It is time, too, that Madison County has a chance to provide the next congressman for our district.

I would like to suggest and recommend you voters to seriously consider Pete Fields as a candidate for the 21st Congressional District on the Democratic ticket.

Pete was born in Granite City and raised in Venice. He has a deep understanding of the social and economic condition of this area. I know Pete would be a good congressman and would represent all the people.

We're really three newspapers in one

We're one paper with three names.

Somewhat, that message has been a little tough to get across to some people.

People still come into the office and say, "Can I get this engagement announcement in the Thursday and Sunday papers?"

Asking us that question would be the same as going to one of the local daily papers and saying, "Can I get this engagement announcement in the Thursday and Friday and Tuesday papers?"

The media mandarin

Jack Ventimiglia

Of course such a request wouldn't be fair, and wouldn't be made by most persons.

All papers do their best to serve the public, but newspapers are also bound by constraints of time and space. To run one person's announcement twice might mean someone else's announcement would not get in the paper.

The Press-Record, the Journal and the Press-Record/Journal are one paper, with three different names.

Admittedly, it does cause some confusion. Sometimes it seems like the thing to do would be to use one name and avoid the minor misunderstandings that have, from time to time, resulted from our three-in-one paper.

After all, the staff for the three papers is the same. And the content is the same, except for slight variations common in any publication coming out three times weekly.

Hopefully, more people will come to understand that the Press-Record/Journal is one paper.

When we are asked if we can get an item into the newspaper, we will aim to get it in one of the three issues as soon as we can.

Emergency services draw praise

Many activities will be held during Emergency Medical Services Week, Sept. 29-Oct. 5. The national observance is sponsored locally by St. Elizabeth Medical Center in conjunction with Granite City fire and police departments and emergency medical technicians (EMTs)/paramedics. Officials and the public have responded with praise for the emergency staffs.

Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse has called attention to the week, established to educate the community about steps citizens can take to prevent an emergency and actions to be taken when one occurs. A free blood pressure clinic will be held Thursday, Oct. 3, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at National Food Store in Granite City.

Throughout the week, the SEMC emergency room staff, city police and the ambulance corps will be visiting seven local kindergartens with a "Teddy Bear Clinic." Students will be introduced to emergency room procedures and the duties of police and paramedics, as well as given a look inside a squad car and ambulance. They also will receive home packets.

Granite City emergency medical personnel are being invited to a trauma lecture and buffet at SEMC on Oct. 2. Dr. Jaro Mayda, vascular surgeon at the hospital, will speak.

The week will conclude with the hospital awarding a complete physical evaluation to one police officer, one firefighter and one paramedic/EMT as part of its "Going Strong" wellness program.

Slimette registration scheduled this week

The Granite City Park District has announced registration fees for a "slimettes" class to be instructed by Lee Suarez. The cost of the first eight-week session will be $7.50 for park district residents and $17.50 for non-residents.

Included in the fee for residents will be a one-year ID card to be used when registering for programs. Pictures for ID cards will be taken the night of registration at the Harold Brown Recreation Center; each person must register individually. There will be no exercises on the night of registration.

Classes meet at the Brown Recreation Center on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 8, Thursday mornings from 9:45 to 10:45 and Saturday mornings from 9 to 10.

Registration for all slimettes classes will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 1, at 6:30 p.m. Anyone unable to attend then may register at the Wilson Park office on Wednesday, Thursday or Friday, Oct. 2-4. There will be no signups after the first week.

The park office staff stresses that in order to obtain an ID card, required for admittance, it will be necessary to bring proof of residence, such as a current utility bill (phone, water, sewer, etc.). Drivers license will not be accepted if they are over six months old.

Non-residents will be given a special admittance pass for the class.

Cruse appoints committee to study economic development

GRANITE CITY — The appointment of a city economic development committee was announced at the council meeting Tuesday night.

Mayor Von Dee Cruse, in making the announcement, said the appointments are representative of business, labor, professional and government entities that have a direct interest in the economic future of the city.

"There are a number of agencies in our area that are concerned with economic development but none that is concerned exclusively with economic problems of Granite City itself," he said.

"I WANT THIS economic committee to monitor and coordinate the efforts of all these other agencies on potential Granite City developments and to work with the new coordinator that we have hired," Cruse said the city needs to find ways to capitalize on the advantages the city offers in location, transportation and skilled labor.

"But we also need to find ways to reduce the handicaps we have — for example, the rundown appearance of our downtown and older neighborhoods, the poorly maintained appearance of some residential, business and public properties throughout the city, and the lack of planning for the kinds of facilities and developments that most cities of our size can offer to help attract new business and industry," he said.

CRUSE PLANS to participate personally in the activities of the committee, so that it maintains the kind of momentum the city needs to compete for industry.

ed with how things were going. It was just a matter of getting a much better job.

BARKER HAS BEEN serving as the acting director since Swatling left. The YMCA's board is conducting a search for a new chief.

Swatling replaced David Femrite last October. He had previously served nine years as a sales representative for Computer Science Corporation and had also been a director for YMCAs in Peoria and St. Louis.

"Everything is going smoothly for now," Barker said. "We have a good board of directors and we're looking to grow."

Johnson church plans will clinic

Ten reasons why a person should have a will are to be discussed by the Rev. Ron Black of Poplar Bluff, Mo. Wednesday, Oct. 2, at the Johnson Road General Baptist Church, 2033 Johnson Road.

The 7 p.m. meeting and service is open to the public as well as members of the congregation.

Rev. Black stresses a will is needed since people who die without one may not have their wishes carried out. He says their estate may be in probate courts for a long time.

wrestler and as an assistant coach and was responsible for Walt's success," Crider said.

Crider said it was apparent at that time that Walt would have Schmitt's job "in a couple of years" when Schmitt retired, which he did last year.

WHITAKER RESPONDED Walt was 52 years old and deserved the job then (1983), Crider said.

"I told her that if I was (the board member) and I was re-elected to the board that I would not support Walt anymore," Crider said.

Crider said he had volunteered to take a polygraph test and did so at J. W. Meek Polygraph in St. Louis.

THE QUESTIONS, with Crider's answers following, were:

1. Do you know for sure of anyone attempting to have Walt Whitaker fired from his position at Granite City High School? No.

2. Did you in any way threaten to fire or have Walt Whitaker fired from his position as wrestling coach at Granite City High School? No.

3. Did you know Mrs. Judy Whitaker prior to the committee's picnic at Wade Rollins' place? Yes.

The test revealed that "Crider indicated no deception to the relevant questions," Crider noted.

WHILE NOT QUESTIONING the results of this specific test, Sgt. Don Knight of the Granite City Police Department said questions in polygraph tests aren't always worded to get an answer which is "absolutely true."

"For example, the question about whether the threat was made didn't say anything about when that statement was or was not made," he said. "It's just hard to tell unless the questions are really worded perfectly."

Whitaker could not be reached for comment.

guidance" given to students in Japan.

BEING ABLE TO GUIDE the student is at the top of our list at home," Itoh said. "That is our target, but we haven't reached the point that the United States has yet."

Although the group found some differences in the schools in America, there was one thing Itoh said was no different.

"The students are the same," he said. "Kids are the same everywhere. They're happy and have such beautiful smiles. The only difference in kids around the world is the different languages they speak."

ANOTHER DIFFERENCE apparently is the number of those beautiful smiles which are in any one classroom. Itoh said his group was surprised, and a little envious, to see smaller classes in America.

"We see maybe 20 or 25 students in each class here," he said. "Our classes will often have around 40 children. The study methods can be different then. There is a need to concentrate on each student's individuality. And we are very impressed with that here."

Itoh said one of the reasons for larger classes in Japan was a budget problem that made it hard to have enough teachers in some places.

THE GROUP VISITED the junior high schools on Thursday, and was at Prater Elementary School Friday morning before spending the afternoon at the high school.

After leaving Granite City, the teachers will be making stops in New Mexico, Washington D.C. and possibly New York City. They will be in the U.S. 12 more days before returning home.

Itoh said the visits were sanctioned by the Ministry of Japanese Education and said he thought there were approximately 100 groups touring America this year.

"WE HAVE BEEN very happy with the reception we have had in Granite City," Itoh said. "We appreciate District 9 very much and are very pleased with Dr. (Max) Redmond and his colleagues."

We were impressed with the way the administrators and the teachers are able to work so closely here."

ROYAL BENGAL TIGERS are featured in the Franzen Brothers Circus, coming to Pontoon Beach Oct. 5. Show times are 2 and 4:30 p.m. at the Central Baptist Church on Highway 111.

Franzen Bros. Circus performing in Pontoon

PONTON BEACH — Royal Bengal tigers and African lions await spectators at this year's edition of the Franzen Brothers Circus, being sponsored by the Pontoon Beach Leo's Club.

The circus will be in Pontoon Beach for two performances on Saturday, Oct. 5. Show times are scheduled for 2 and 4:30 p.m. under the big top at Central Baptist Church on Highway 111.

The Franzen Brothers Circus features over 30 wild and domestic animals, including seven Royal Bengal tigers, three African lionesses, 12 matched leopard ponies, three elephants, a camel and a llama, organizers said.

The circus was started by Wayne Franzen in 1974. He was an industrial arts teacher at a central Wisconsin high school before buying his first elephant and big top. The show traveled on three trucks in 1974. This year, it is traveling on 10 trucks.

The Franzen Brothers Circus tours 275 towns in 25 states annually. The show plays one-night stands, meaning it is in a different town every day and seven different towns a week.

Okha, the circus' elephant, puts up the big top. The men lay the poles out, lay the canvas over the poles and tie it off. The elephant is harnessed and goes in under one end of the tent. Her harness is attached to the center poles, and she hoists the canvas up.

In 1983, the Franzen Brothers Circus bought two baby South African elephants. They were trained this winter and are making their debut performance with the circus this year, organizers said.

The featured act of the circus is Franzen's Ponies of America act. Franzen bought the 12 matched leopard ponies in 1977. That winter, he spent 1,000 hours rehearsing the horses. They perform a liberty drill routine, spins, figure eights, reverses and salutes to the audience.

Clyde, the circus' camel, is the only camel performing in the circus world today, organizers said. Clyde performs with Chico, the llama, in the Mixed Animal Review.

The Leo's Club is making advance tickets available at the following locations: Granny's Corner at Third Street and Madison Avenue, Swiss Farms Restaurants, A & J Market in Pontoon Beach and the Village Hall on Highway 111.

Advance ticket prices are free to children under 2 years old, $3 to children aged 2 to 13, $4 to adults 14 to 65 and $3 to adults 65 years and older.

Gate prices are free to children under 2 years old, $4 to children aged 2 to 13, $5 to adults 14 to 65 and $4 to adults 65 years and older.

Book is ticket to Six Flags

ST. LOUIS — A book is a kid's ticket to fun during Six Flags Over Mid-America's Bring-A-Book celebration. On the weekend of Oct. 5 and 6, children in grades 3 through 8 who bring a book to the park will receive free admission.

The Bring-A-Book weekend signals the start of Six Flags' nationwide effort to encourage children to read outside of school. In November, area teachers will receive the park's Read to Succeed educational program designed to introduce youngsters to a lifetime of independent reading.

All books collected during the Bring-A-Book weekend will be donated to hospitals and other institutions.

Red licenses for drivers under 21

Red will be featured in the design of Illinois' new drivers license for persons under 21.

"The distinctive license is intended to discourage drinking and driving by making it easy for alcohol servers and sellers to identify persons who are under age," Secretary of State Jim Edgar said. "There can be no chance to mistake a birthdate when a license clearly says 'UNDER 21' on both the front and back."

THE LICENSE will have a bold red border and a red field behind the photograph in addition to the "UNDER 21." Now "over 21" drivers licenses will have a white field behind the photo.

"Drunk driving is the number one cause of death among teenagers," Edgar said.

"The Illinois DUI Task Force which offered this legislation believes color-coded licenses can reduce teen highway deaths significantly."

In addition to the color changes, all new-issue drivers licenses, beginning in January, will be more secure and tamper-resistant because of a new laminate.

WHEN TILTED, the word "Illinois" will appear superimposed on the birthdate, license number and photo. Edgar said the system will make Illinois licenses virtually tamper-proof.

He said hundreds of altered or fraudulent licenses are discovered in Illinois each year, "probably only a fraction of the number circulated in the state."

"Billions of dollars are lost every year through the use of fraudulent IDs. Part of that loss is due to altered licenses presented for check cashing. The new laminate security procedure will make things a bit more frustrating for criminals."

THE STATE WILL MAIL drivers license guides to 500,000 businesses in Illinois explaining how to check identification for authenticity.

The new licenses will be phased in. "There is no need for licensed drivers under 21 to get a new color-coded license now," Edgar said. "Any license that is valid now will remain valid until its expiration date."

BURGLAR TAKES COMPUTER

A burglary at Lakeside Roofing, Box 149 Highway 162, was reported to Madison County authorities Sept. 25. Taken were an IBM computer, a stamp machine, business checks from the First Granite City National Bank, an outboard motor, a generator and a 1979 Chevrolet flat-bed truck.

MITCHELL TRUCK THEFT
Paul Chinchock, 854 Thorngate Drive, Mitchell, reported his GMC truck was taken Sept. 21 from the In Between Tavern, Maryville and Old Alton roads.

THREE INJURED IN CRASH

Three persons were injured Sept. 21 at Namecki and Johnson roads. Christine L. Mode, 30, of 2146 Delmar Ave. and a passenger in her westbound car, Matthew Mode, 14, of 2146 Delmar were hurt, as was the driver of the other auto, Gerald J. Moore, 28, of 2444 Edison Ave. Matthew Mode was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by ambulance.

CAR COLLIDES WITH HOME, DRIVER CHARGED WITH DUI

Tammy S. Hyatt, 18, of 2517 Benton St. was arrested Sept. 22 after her car hit a tree and a street sign, went through a yard and hit a home at 2513 Benton. She allegedly backed her car and left the scene. Located later, she was charged with transporting alcohol, failing to give information after striking property, and driving while under the influence of alcohol.

A passenger in the auto, Charlene Sanders, 17, of 2025 Bryan Ave. was injured. Sanders was charged with possessing alcohol. Another passenger, John Moore, 19, of the 2000 block of Bryan also was charged with possession of alcohol. Hyatt was released on $102 bail.

Q. I have worked for the same company for the last 15 years. However, I have taken a promotion with another company and will leave this position within the month. My retirement benefit fund will be paid to me in cash when I leave. I have my own IRA account. Can I reinvest the cash in my IRA? Will there be any kind of penalty?

A. When you receive the money from your past employer's retirement benefit fund you may deposit all or part of these funds into your IRA. Not only are you reinvesting in your future but you are deferring any income tax on those funds. This is known as an IRA "rollover" contribution. There is no limit on the amount you may contribute from your pension fund payment. However, there is a limit on the amount of time before you must rollover these funds. Your pension payment must be deposited within sixty days of the time you receive the money. Otherwise, you will be liable for income tax payments on the funds.

Car tax beginning Tuesday

Bargain hunters who scan the classified ads for used cars, trucks or motorcycles are being reminded of changes in the tax on those vehicles.

Beginning Tuesday, Oct. 1, the tax on vehicles sold between individuals will change from a flat $30 tax to a 5 percent tax on the purchase price.

THE MODEL YEARS affected have been increased from 5 years or newer to 10 years or newer. Motorcycles are now taxed, as well. Purchases through dealers will continue to be taxed under the state's sales tax.

The tax affects used cars, trucks, vans, motorcycles, motor-driven cycles, buses and other motor vehicles which are 10 model years or less from the year the purchaser applies for the new title. This means that 1975 models or later are subject to the tax if sold after Oct. 1, 1985.

Vehicles over 10 years of age as well as certain other transactions—including vehicles sold between close relatives—are exempt from the tax.

THE BUYER PAYS the tax, usually when applying for title and registration (license plates and/or stickers). The tax is 5 percent of the price paid for the vehicle, whether that amount was paid in cash, goods or services.

No deductions are allowed for trade-ins. A "Used Car Buyer's Kit" has been assembled by the Department of Revenue to aid Illinois taxpayers in meeting the tax and registration requirements.

The kit contains both the Secretary of State's Title/Registration form and the Department of Revenue's Motor Vehicle Use Tax form, as well as a brochure explaining the new tax and outlining what needs to be done by the buyer.

GC beauticians attend seminar
Four Granite City beauticians were among those attending a hair fashion seminar Sept. 23 at the Henry VIII Motor Lodge in St. Louis.

Mildred Aldridge, Cheryl Slay and Joyce Kotoff from Na-Bor-Hood Hair Fashions and Naomi Gray from Naomi's Beauty Salon participated in the classes and received certificates.

Featured artist was Dallas of New York City. The internationally-acclaimed stylist presented several new hair designs, detailing latest trends from Australia and Paris.

Kotoff also was the recipient of an award Sept. 16 while attending a two-day Salon Management seminar in Tulsa, Okla.

Bus routes
ship of the Madison County Transit District and Bi-State. "We are two entirely separate entities."

"Bi-State is aware we will contract with them only in cases where the service they provide is cost-effective. The transit district will not hesitate to look for methods to improve local service utilizing local resources."

So far, local service has been provided through a variety of transportation options. Shuttle services are being provided by ACT.

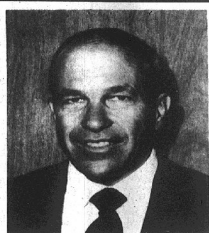

Park-and-ride lots are being created for both bus riders and car poolers and the district also operates a vanpool program.

"IN SHORT," the Madison County Transit District has fulfilled its role and done its part through supplemental marketing programs, reduced fares and innovative services," Haine said.

"However, Bi-State has not matched our efforts. We continue to see too many empty buses—buses that are empty because they are dirty, buses that are empty because they break down, buses that are empty because they do not run on schedule."

"We are not in business to help the Missouri-based Bi-State Agency maintain its rising overhead and administration costs." (The two-state development agency is governed by five Missourians and five Illinoisans, the latter including the board chairman, who currently is the acting executive director.)

Haine said the transit district is pleased with most of the Bi-State drivers, especially those in the Alton area.

Joe Glik
Another Glik's store will open

Joe Glik, president of the Granite City-based Glik Co., has announced the scheduled March 1986 opening of a Glik's Ltd. store in the Galleria Mall in St. Louis.

It will be Glik's fifth St. Louis location out of a total of 15 stores including Glik's Ltd. ladies specialty stores, Glik's for Guys men's specialty stores and Glik's department stores.

The Glik Co. is projecting the opening of four more stores in Missouri over the next two years.

Legislation allows pay negotiations

Legislation to allow the Capital Development Board and the Tri-City Regional Port District to negotiate a payment schedule has been signed into law.

"Current law states that when a port district has a CDB project, it must pay back its share under a payment schedule which requires the district to remit 20 percent of its gross receipts to the state," Sen. Sam Vadala said Thursday.

"Senate Bill 361, which I sponsored, restructures the payback requirement so that CDB and the port authority can work out their own payment schedule. As of Jan. 1, 1986, the authority and CDB can negotiate the payments."

"The bill also permits the CDB to establish an intermediate loading zone which would increase the port's capacity and enable it to move inventory more quickly."

"The Tri-City Port is currently the only authority in the state which is affected by this legislation. There are 13 port districts in Illinois."

Trojans trounce Tiger Homecoming hopes Kicked Around No More!

By JAMES BLASINGAME
Staff writer

DUPO — On Friday night Madison High School football coach Don Smith was smiling — and for good reason. His Trojans had just run their unbeaten string to four games this season with a convincing 18-7 win over the Dupo Tigers, and Madison's proud pigskin papa was enjoying the aftermath.

"Yes, this is a big win. It's a funny feeling, being 4-0," Smith beamed in the locker room afterwards.

As a third-year head coach for the Trojans, Smith is having his best season. In his first campaign, Smith and the Trojans were 3-5. Last year Madison was 4-4, and now, Smith's squad is undefeated after four games, including a victory against one of the area's traditional small school powerhouses, Dupo.

"It's the biggest win for me," Smith said. "I thought we'd win, but playing in Dupo... and especially on (the Trojans') homecoming."

Once again it was the reliable Trojan defense that made Smith the happiest.

With 1:20 remaining, the Trojans trailed Madison 12-7, but Dupo had possession at its own 44 with a second and 13 situation. Tiger quarterback Scott Tieman, under heavy pressure from the Trojan defensive front, scrambled to his right and threw to his split end Jim Stiner. But Madison safety Reggie Young snared the intended pass and batted 47 yards down the sideline for the clincher.

"Reggie's interception — that was the most beautiful sight I've ever seen in my life," laughed Smith. "I knew that once he got to the open field, he's gone. He's got a sprinter's speed."

When asked if Young saw the interception coming, the six-foot, 190 pounder responded:

"All the time. I knew it. Our defensive end was chasing him, and I knew he (Tieman) had to get rid of it, so I just stayed with my man."

Despite a solid defensive effort by the Trojans, Dupo was able to do what no other team has done this season against Madison — score a touchdown. The Tigers marched 79 yards on their second possession, as Tieman hit Dan Howell for a 35-yard scoring strike to take a 7-0 lead.

"When they (Dupo) came right down and scored, I didn't know how they'd (the Trojans) react," Smith said. "But my kids showed a lot of character."

Madison responded to the Tiger score with a touchdown drive of its own. Behind some hard running by Angelo Cross and Demarque Crockett, the Trojans moved 62 yards before Cross bulled in from the three. The two-point conversion attempt failed, and the half ended with Dupo leading 7-6.

The Trojans struck again early in the second half. After forcing a Tiger punt, Madison took over at its 36-yard line. Fullback Daryl McCormick rumbled 21 yards to the Dupo 42, and then on third and 12 from the Tiger 32, Smith called a beauty.

"We ran the reverse a couple of times, and then (the Trojans) stopped that. So we ran the fake reverse," Smith grinned. "They weren't ready for that."

Madison quarterback Darnell Marshall left the entire Dupo defense on the right side of the gridiron, as he breezed 32 yards down the left sideline for six more points and a 12-7 lead.

That concluded the scoring until Young's fourth quarter heroics.

Nearly all of Madison's 297 total yards came on the ground. In the second half, the Trojans ate up 181 yards, while holding Dupo to just 84.

"I didn't think we'd be able to run the ball on them," said Tiger coach Gary Mauser. "We couldn't handle them up front, and when you don't win the war in the pits, you usually don't win."

"Madison's impressive. We knew it'd be a hell of a ball game."

The loss drops Dupo to 3-2 on the year, with the Trojans' other defeat coming from Assumption High School of East St. Louis, 42-21.

But for Smith and his Trojans, the win over Dupo adds credibility to Madison's 4-0 start.

"Now they (the Trojans) can say they beat somebody," Smith said. And he smiled again.

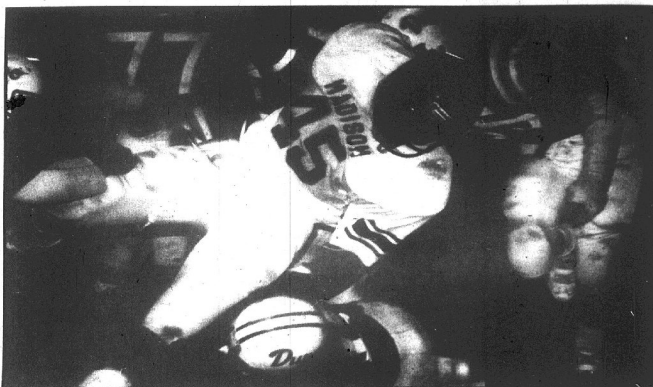

SCORING
MADISON 7 0 0 0-10
DUPO 6 0 0 0-7

DUPO • Howell 35 yd. pass from Tieman (Tieman kick)

MADISON • Cross 3 yd. run (run failed)

MADISON • Marshall 22 yd. run (run failed)

MADISON • Young 47 yd. interception (return run failed)

THE HARD WAY. Madison High School's Angelo Cross picks up some yardage the hard way during Friday night's non-conference football game with the Dupo Tigers. The Trojans won the game, their fourth consecutive, and handed the Tigers a homecoming loss in the process. The 18-7 victory gives the Trojans a 4-0 record this season.

Warring Tribes Warriors battle Kahoks to 0-0 tie

By GREGG OCHOA
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — It was time for some mind games at the Gauntlet Thursday night.

The final regular-season meeting between the Warriors and Collinsville ended in a 0-0 draw after double overtime, but it had an all too familiar plot twist to it: The Kahoks arrived for the contest more than 10 minutes late, just missing the 15-minute grace period before a forfeit could have been called.

"Choo-choo train," Collinsville coach Jim Stranz told the official before the coin toss. Collinsville's team bus was apparently held up by a train by the Granite City Steel mill. Stranz said the delay was approximately 20 minutes.

When the game finally started it was quite a contrast from the teams' first meeting Sept. 12. Granite City won that game after completely dominating play.

Since that time, Collinsville has won four straight. "Hopefully, that was our slump for the season," Stranz said.

On the field, neither team really had a slump. Both defenses played well when tested.

"There was intensity throughout this match that's usually reserved for the fourth quarter," Stranz said. Meanwhile, the tie kept Granite City's unbeaten string alive. The Warriors have not lost in nine games. But, that was the farthest thing from coach Gene Baker's mind.

"Fortunately," Baker said, "we have the type of program that's not satisfied with ties."

Baker praised senior goalkeeper Terry Dutko. "An outstanding game," the coach said. "He's a quality keeper."

Dutko was difference in a game that Collinsville controlled early. He made five saves in the first half alone, including a dandy with approximately 12 minutes left in the first quarter.

The Warrior goalie sprawled to the ground and just got his right hand on Jeff Deutch's shot from 25 yards out.

In fact, the Kahoks owned the best scoring opportunities in the first 40 minutes. And, Deutch was involved in both.

With 26 seconds remaining in the half, Deutch broke away from the Warrior defense on a transition play dribbled in, but his shot sailed over the top of the goal.

"If we could have just had that one," Stranz said.

"I just flat out missed it," Deutch said. "It rolled off my foot."

Collinsville outshot the Warriors 6-4 at the end of the first half. Granite City had some chances, but the offense seemed to sputter.

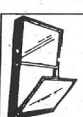

"They were a little tight," Baker said.

The Warrior coach suggested that (See WARRIORS, Page 16A)
